

Toby's apprenticeship story – transcript

Toby, HR Apprentice

When I left school I actually did end up going to uni. I just realised it wasn't really for me.

Finding this has been like the perfect balance, doing a qualification as well as being at the FCA five days a week.

It does feel quite unique coming here. You get a lot of benefits like health care, you got a gym, and in terms of a building it's all brand new.

Before I joined the FCA I was doing shift work after I left uni. I didn't really feel like I had much social life. Since being here I kind of feel like I have a lot of time to do everything I need to outside of work and I can afford to do it.

Work-life balance is great. In the location that we are it's quite easy to go places after work. I do feel like there's a little bond between the lot of us that joined.

I definitely look to stay here after my apprenticeship has ended, it's just great.
